Dear Xxxxx:

This letter is in response to your letter dated February 3, 2000. The nature of your letter and the information you have provided require that we respond with a General Information Letter, which is designed to provide general information, is not a statement of Department policy and is not binding on the Department. See 2 Ill. Adm. Code 1200.120(b) and (c), enclosed.

In your letter, you have stated and made inquiry as follows:

I am writing to you per the suggestion of PERSON, Revenue Auditor. On January 18 of this year I was requested by his office to review my records and perform a self-audit determining my tax obligations under the Illinois Use Tax Act. The information I discovered during my review leads me to believe I should apply for a resale exemption number.

COMPANY is a welding service. The supplies we purchase such as welding rod, tungsten and industrial gasses are tangible property that will be transferred to our customers as incidental to the provision of our services.

Examples of the service we provide are as follows:

A customer of ours manufactures plastic spoons. He needs repair done to one of his molds. We repair the mold. In this situation are we under obligation to pay sales tax on the tangible property we purchased to provide our service?

Another customer of ours brings us more than one part that he needs assembled and welded. Again, are the supplies we purchase to provide our service subject to sales tax? Please keep in mind that in this situation, COMPANY never fabricates the parts to be welded.

If you have any questions regarding this matter, you can contact me at #####.

Retailers' Occupation Tax and Use Tax do not apply to receipts from sales of personal services. Under the Service Occupation Tax Act, servicemen are taxed on tangible personal property transferred incident to sales of service. For your general information we are enclosing a copy of 86

III. Adm. Code 140.101 regarding sales of service and Service Occupation Tax.

The purchase of tangible personal property that is transferred to service customers may result in either Service Occupation Tax liability or Use Tax liability for the servicemen, depending upon which tax base the servicemen choose to calculate their liability. Servicemen may calculate their tax base in one of four ways: (1) separately stated selling price; (2) 50% of the entire bill; (3) Service Occupation Tax on cost price if they are registered de minimis servicemen; or, (4) Use Tax on cost price if the servicemen are de minimis and are not otherwise required to be registered under the Retailers' Occupation Tax Act.

Using the first method, servicemen may separately state the selling price of each item transferred as a result of sales of service. The tax is based on the separately stated selling price of the tangible personal property transferred. If servicemen do not wish to separately state the selling price of the tangible personal property transferred, those servicemen must use the second method where they will use 50% of the entire bill to their service customers as the tax base. Both of the above methods provide that in no event may the tax base be less than the cost price of the tangible personal property transferred. Under these methods, servicemen may provide their suppliers with Certificates of Resale when purchasing the tangible personal property to be transferred as a part of the sales of service. Upon selling their product, they are required to collect the corresponding Service Use Tax from their customers.

The third way servicemen may account for their tax liability only applies to de minimis servicemen who have either chosen to be registered or are required to be registered because they incur Retailers' Occupation Tax liability with respect to a portion of their business. Servicemen may qualify as de minimis if they determine that their annual aggregate cost price of tangible personal property transferred incident to sales of service is less than 35% of their annual gross receipts from service transactions (75% in the case of pharmacists and persons engaged in graphic arts production). See, 86 Ill. Adm. Code 140.101(f) enclosed. This class of registered de minimis servicemen is authorized to pay Service Occupation Tax (which includes local taxes) based upon the cost price of tangible personal property transferred incident to sales of service. Servicemen that incur Service Occupation Tax collect the Service Use Tax from their customers. They remit the tax to the Department by filing returns and do not pay tax to suppliers. They provide suppliers with Certificates of Resale for the property transferred to service customers.

The final method of determining tax liability may be used by de minimis servicemen that are not otherwise required to be registered under Section 2a of the Retailers' Occupation Tax Act. Servicemen may qualify as de minimis if they determine that their annual aggregate cost price of tangible personal property transferred incident to sales of service is less than 35% of their annual gross receipts from service transactions (75% in the case of pharmacists and persons engaged in graphic arts production). Such de minimis servicemen may pay Use Tax to their suppliers or may self-assess and remit Use Tax to the Department when making purchases from unregistered out-of-State suppliers. Those servicemen are not authorized to collect "tax" from their service customers because they, not their customers, incur the tax liability. Those servicemen are also not liable for Service Occupation Tax. It should be noted that servicemen no longer have the option of determining whether they are de minimis using a transaction by transaction basis.

Assuming that you qualify as a serviceman under the fourth method above, (your annual aggregate cost price of tangible personal property transferred incident to sales of service is less than 35% of your annual gross receipts from service transactions and you are not otherwise required to be registered under Section 2a of the Retailers' Occupation Tax Act) you would pay your supplier Use Tax on the cost price of the tangible personal property you transfer to your customers in conducting your service.

You also incur a Use Tax liability when purchasing items that you use and do not transfer to customers in completing your service (e.g. welders and other hand tools.)

I hope this information is helpful. The Department of Revenue maintains a Web site, which can be accessed at www.revenue.state.il.us. If you have further questions related to the Illinois sales tax laws, please contact the Department's Taxpayer Information Division at (217) 782-3336.

If you are not under audit and you wish to obtain a binding Private Letter Ruling regarding your factual situation, please submit all of the information set out in items 1 through 8 of the enclosed copy of Section 1200.110(b).

Very truly yours,

Melanie A. Jarvis
